Plans being drawn up for new town council

WEYMOUTH'S weekend Seafood Festival saw thousands pack along the harbour to enjoy the best seafood that Dorset has to offer

HISTORIC plans are being drawn up for a new town council for Weymouth in case its existing borough council is scrapped should rural Dorset opt to be governed by unitary authority.

Nothing has been decided yet but Conservative leader Councillor Jeff Cant said that "considerable progress" had been made in the last two months towards building a proposal for change which can be discussed with residents and the business community.

And he added that a communication and consultation campaign was expected to start "very soon".

He told the View: "For the past two years the Leaders Growth Board for Dorset, which now consists of myself and leaders from each of the eight other Dorset councils, has been working on a project to make a proposal to Government for a new way of managing council services across the county.

"The driver for this has been the reduction in funding for councils which has meant that Weymouth and Portland has been working through a programme of cost savings for five years now including combining North Dorset, West Dorset and Weymouth and Portland into a partnership.

"Although this has been very successful, even greater efficiencies are having to be found by all the councils to bridge the budget gap which is predicted over the next five years.

"The project is in three parts. The first has been a submission supporting a 'Combined Authority' which will bring together proposals for economic and infrastructure development into a single plan for Dorset.

"The second part is to consider if we might benefit from a different way of delivering services.

"Residents across Dorset will soon be consulted on this but in simple terms nine councils would become a smaller number covering a wider area. Any new bodies would be one stop shops for all services much like Bournemouth and Poole are now.

"A proposal on this will probably be finalised towards the end of the year and part of this will be a discussion about how some local services might be delivered.

"At present Weymouth and Portland and Christchurch don't have a full range of parish councils although there is a town council on Portland.

"One possibility if the Government supports setting up a different structure would be a town council for Weymouth to mirror the arrangements on Portland. However, no new organisation comes without additional costs and the council and the community will have to be

YOUNG mother Kelly Apps, well known in West Dorset and East Devon as a talented stage performer, is embarking on the biggest challenge of her life by opening a new estate agency, Axe Valley Property, based in Chard Street, Axminster.

Born and educated in Lyme Regis, Kelly has worked for 18 years in the property industry and property law departments.

Her newly-launched agency will handle lettings, residential and commercial transactions.

A member of the talented Street family, Kelly, a mother of two, is well known as one of the most popular stage performers in the locality, having received rave reviews in recent years for her musical theatre roles in Lyme Regis and Axminster, especially in the role of Evita.

● THE property market is very volatile at the moment, with a great amount of uncertainty after the EU referendum. Is there any evidence of this locally and how do you think it will pan out in the future?

There is often a lull in the property market where we see political changes. This change is of mammoth proportions but I am encouraged by the level of enquiries and business following the referendum, it shows a determination by people not to bow down to the scaremongering.

● WHAT do you think will give you the edge when potential sellers are looking for an estate agent to handle their property?

Bags of experience, realistic fees and an ultra-personable service. The whole package. I really do care.

● WHY did you choose Axminster to base your business?

It's an intriguing market; strong yet the prices are still reasonable. I have never understood this as it is such a conveniently located and quaint little market town with ever expanding industry... I feel Axminster and the market there can only grow.

I also have strong connections with the town having been involved in theatre there for nearly 20 years. It's close to my heart.

● YOU are a young mother and you have to spend a great deal of time in intense rehearsals for the leading roles for you play on the local stage.

How do you balance these with running a business again?

I think temporarily the limelight will need to take a back seat. My priority is the business and, of course, my children but I work every hour to achieve great results in seemingly short periods of time. I am confident.

● YOU come from a talented stage family with your cousin Luke having appeared on the West End stage. How old were you when your first appeared in a show?

I was about five – I had a walk on part in a Lyme Panto.

● YOUR portrayal of Evita at Lyme Regis two years ago was considered to be one of the most professional seen on the local stage. If you could choose another favourite role to play, what would it be? I am incapable of having a favourite in anything so I always have a top five: Evita (done), Magnolia (Showboat – which I have also done), Nancy (Oliver), The Narrator (Joseph AHATCD) and Shelby (Steele Magnolias – the play).

● IF you had to name the two great inspirations in your life, who would they be?

It's a cliché but my children for sure. Oli has complex disabilities and has faced some pretty tough stuff. Madi is a feisty little character, beautiful, bright and deals with her brother's disabilities better than most adults would – better than I do, in fact.

● IF you could invite three characters from history to share your dinner table, who would they be?

Eva Peron (respect), Karen Carpenter (such talent – so tragic) and JFK (huge fascination). I wish I could choose my top five – aagghhh!

● IF you had to pass on one piece of advice to your children, what would it be?

Be yourself confidently and passionately and never allow yourself to be anything else, no matter what the pressures.

Plans being made for new town council if unitary authority is approved

convinced that the costs will be justified by the value any new town council can bring.

"The final part of the jigsaw would depend on the other two being delivered but could mean we ask the Government to pass down to the County responsibility for things they do centrally now, for example major roads construction."

Liberal Democrat leader, Councillor Gill Taylor said: "I am keen that the need for a town council for Weymouth and the difference it will make to the town is highlighted, but the idea will need to have the buy-in from residents.

"Consultation on all this is due to go out about the middle of August and to last for about eight weeks.

"The advantages for the town are huge, but we need to get over to the public that we want to set up a town council along the lines of highly successful existing bodies in Dorchester and Bridport. There are huge opportunities available if we choose to take them.

"Having said that, there has to be a balance because we must not over promise."

She said that having a Weymouth Town Council would restore two layers of local government for the area but that nothing was set in stone as it all requires government authority.

She added: "I can't see real steps being taken this year because the idea of a Weymouth Town Council will be sent off to the Government later this year with the proposals for a new Dorset unitary authority structure.

"The Government will have to reach a decision on that – and they have one or two things on their plate at the moment – so we really can't suggest a real timescale. We'll just have to take things as they come.

"If approvals are given and things run smoothly then county elections will be held in May 2017 after which 2018 borough elections will be scrapped.

"This would be followed in April 2018 by the simultaneous setting up of a Dorset unitary authority structure and a Weymouth Town Council.

"If a Weymouth Town Council is set up then we'd have to decide how many Weymouth councillors – there are 29 at the moment – we really need to run a town council."

Labour leader Councillor Colin Huckle said: "We have been talking about the idea of a unitary authority for some time and it has been driven by financial pressures.

"If we do have a unitary authority for rural Dorset – and that's the approach I favour – we need to get Weymouth represented and the best available way to do that would be through a town council.

"A town council can have many powers and we should take our lead from the success of town councils in Dorchester and Bridport.

"This is a negative stance. The county council will try and tell us what we should have but we have to stand up for what we want.

"We have a number of assets from hotels to car parks and land and we need to be the ones saying how they are run."

Defibrillator to help Portland first aiders

■ ST John Ambulance's Kevin Dickens and Terry Shakespeare

ST John Ambulance volunteers on Portland have been presented with new equipment which will help them save lives.

The charity's first aiders have a new portable defibrillator thanks to recent fundraising activity which has seen them bring in almost £1,500.

When someone suffers a cardiac arrest, the chance of survival falls by 10 per cent every minute without first aid. But, with CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) and the use of a defibrillator within three minutes, their chance of survival could be as high as 70 per cent.

Portland Unit Manager Terry Shakespeare said: "All of the volunteers on Portland are hugely grateful to everyone who has so generously contributed towards this vital piece of equipment.

"It's so important that we have the best possible chance of helping someone if they fall ill when we're providing first aid cover and, when someone goes into cardiac arrest, a defibrillator can help us be the difference between a life lost and a life saved."

The importance of having a portable automated external defibrillator (AED) on Portland was demonstrated two years ago, when St John Ambulance volunteer Jonathon Neal used the equipment to save his dad Chris's life.

When Chris went into cardiac arrest at home, Jonathon shocked him twice with the AED to restore his heart to its normal rhythm.

The charity's regional fundraising co-ordinator, Kevin Dickens added: "All the money raised through the Donate for Defibs appeal in the South West is funding defibrillators for local St John Ambulance volunteers.

"We'll also be adding a training model soon, so we can teach more of our volunteers and members of the public how to use an AED.

"The more defibrillators we have, and the more people who are trained how to use them, the better equipped we are to save lives."

Planners refuse application for 340 homes

PLANNERS have refused an application for a 340-home development at Nottington on the edge of Weymouth.

Local builders C G Fry and Son Ltd had the outline consent turned down – despite the advice of planning officers who recommended refusal.

Councillors said there were local concerns over increased traffic and a risk of flooding although plans were being drawn up to deal with surface water.

Several residents claimed that Nottington would have "lost its identity" if the development was allowed.

There was also concern about increased traffic in Nottington Lane.

Resident Terry Gant, speaking on BBC local radio said: "The traffic is horrendous. On a Friday night in summer when the caravans are out there is blockage after blockage in the lane, people arguing and shouting.

"I've had a car written off there, wing mirrors missing, it's just a recipe for disaster."

The developers have pledged to install a new footpath and traffic-calming measures to manage the increase in traffic.

The company will now decide whether to appeal against the 6-4 vote against their scheme by Weymouth and Portland Borough Council's planning committee.

Strike talks break down resulting in continued disruption to buses

LOCAL bus company First say they are disappointed that six hours of talks to try and resolve a pay dispute with drivers ended without a resolution.

The talks were held in Dorchester last Thursday, July 7th, when managers met with union officials.

The break-down means that the long-running strike action and 'work to rule' will continue for company drivers who are union members.

First say that, despite the action, the majority of their services have been, and will continue to run to schedule.

Said a company statement: "While talks were inconclusive, an offer of a 2.3 per cent pay increase over two years (which would take the hourly rate for drivers to £9 hour and which would also be backdated to last year) remains on the table.

"The union has agreed to ballot its members on it.

First Dorset has also committed to make its offer (2.3 per cent increase over two years) their minimum position at formal arbitration (meaning, subject to the arbitrator's decision, the drivers would get at least this, if not more) however the union are still refusing to go to ACAS for binding decision."

Marc Reddy, Managing Director for First Dorset, explains: "My team and I met with union officials for six hours of talks on Thursday but we have not been able to reach a solution. The union are still demanding inflation busting pay increases, which cannot be sustained by our business."

Strike dates in the coming days included this Wednesday, 13th, Friday 15th and Sunday 17th.

Weekday buses not running on these days include the Service 14

(Portland to Weymouth and Thomas Hardy School), students are being advised to use Service 1 and 10 instead.

Others affected are the Service 53 (Bridport to Beaminster); Service 91 (Wyke Regis to Wey Valley School); the X52 (Bridport/Lyme Regis to Exeter); X54 (Weymouth, Wareham and Poole):

On Sunday 17th services expected to be affected include the X52 (Bridport/Lyme Regis to Exeter); X54 (Weymouth, Wareham and Poole).

Customers wanting more information about the services running during the industrial action can contact First Bus Customer Services Team, email ContactDorset@firstgroup.com or telephone 0345 6020121.

Celebrities make Time for Tea

JULIAN Fellowes (pictured), Brian Blessed, Sir Tom Stoppard and rock band The Vamps are among famous names posing for 'mugshots' in support of the Julia's House Time For Tea campaign this summer.

The stars join Julia's House Patrons, Jasper Conran, Eddie Howe, Harry Redknapp, Debra Stephenson, Minette Walters and Chris Jarvis as they rally behind the children's hospice charity's annual tea party fundraiser.

People across Dorset and Wiltshire are being encouraged to get together and hold tea parties and cake bakes at home, at work or in the community to help fund a precious resource - a Julia's House nurse or carer.

Just like the charity's celebrity supporters, people are being invited to post photos of their Time For Tea events on the Julia's House Facebook page and to tweet pictures of themselves holding up their favourite mug to @Julias_House using the hashtag #showusyourmug.

Julia's House supports life-limited children and their families across Dorset and Wiltshire - in families' own homes, in the community and in its Dorset Hospice. A new dedicated Wiltshire hospice will open in Devizes next spring.

Last year its nurses and carers gave more than 28,000 hours of support and respite to families, enabling them to better cope with the pressure of caring round the clock for a very sick child.

Mum Kayleigh, whose sons Leo, two, and Elliott, one, have a rare metabolic disorder said: "Having experienced nurses and carers gives us the confidence to enjoy our freedom knowing nothing is going to happen that they can't handle. Julia's House makes an unbelievable difference in how we are able to cope as a family. Those breaks mean so much to us."

Register for a Time For Tea pack at any Julia's House shop or by emailing timefortea@juliashouse.org. The campaign is once again being sponsored by Dorset Tea and every pack includes a voucher for a free box of their delicious tea as well as a recipe card, fundraising ideas and Time For Tea party stationery. # Council to remove car park recycling banks

THE Dorset Waste Partnership (DWP) is preparing to remove recycling banks for glass, plastic bottles, cans, paper and cardboard across the county from late July to minimise costs.

They say there has been a 77 per cent decline in their use since 2011 and that these banks have become increasingly expensive to maintain.

Buildings sold to save money

MORE county council owned buildings are being sold – including the landmark Top o' Town House in Dorchester.

Other properties to be put on the market include the former Bridport Local Office on St Andrews Road and the Royal Manor and Southwell school buildings on Portland.

The Homes and Community Agency has expressed an interest in acquiring both sites on Portland for first time buyers.

The council also agreed to dispose of Sea View Farm in Netherbury and land at the former West Lulworth Primary School.

Top O' Town House has been the council's dedicated training centre and the facilities will now be provided elsewhere.

The council holds the property on a lease, with running costs of around £93,000 a year and this will be surrendered early as it expires in December 2017.

The former Bridport local office is to be vacated by the current occupants, adult services and children's services teams by the end of November. Staff based there will mostly move to the existing social services office in Dorchester.

The building is also occupied by a pre-school with a lease that expires in February 2018 and it will be marketed as a whole subject to the lease to the pre-school as soon as possible.

The county council plans to move to just seven buildings which it is hoped will save the council around £100,000 a year in running costs.

DWP Joint Committee members recently agreed to remove the banks from the 21 sites around the county that still have them in place. By removing these containers, the DWP is set to save around £90,000 each year.

The DWP will continue to provide banks at existing locations, subject to landowners' agreement, for the following materials that can't currently be recycled using the kerbside service which is foil, cartons, textiles and small waste electrical and electronic equipment.

The DWP has arranged with its contractors to begin removing banks for glass, plastic bottles, cans, paper and cardboard the week commencing July 25th, with a deadline for completion in August.

In order to ensure that residents are given sufficient notice, the DWP have been placing signs on every single bank that is due to be removed and has informed district, town and parish councils.

Residents can continue to recycle glass, plastic bottles, cans, paper and cardboard using their kerbside collection service. They can also recycle these materials seven days a week at all the DWP's household recycling centres across the county.

Privately maintained recycling banks – such as those run by supermarkets – are unaffected by this activity. Residents can find a list of alternate recycling sites at <http://www.recyclenow.com/local-recycling>.

Councillor Anthony Alford, chairman of the DWP Joint Committee, said: "With kerbside collections now available to all Dorset residents, we can stop duplicating services we conveniently provide at the kerbside and household recycling centres. We can also prevent potential fly-tipping and misuse by commercial traders, and overall save money for our partner councils."

Recycling sites which will have glass, plastic bottles, cans, paper and cardboard banks removed include: Dorchester: Fairfield Car Park, Weymouth Ave; Weymouth: Asda car park, Newstead Road, Southill car park, Radipole Lane, Morrisons car park, Dorchester Road, Littlemoor shopping centre car park, Littlemoor Rd; Portland: Tesco car park, Park Road, Easton.

Comments invited on Neighbourhood Plan

CHICKERELL could have its own Neighbourhood Plan – giving local people more say on developments in the area.

The town council has started the process of creating a neighbourhood plan with an application to West Dorset District Council.

It has submitted a map of the area to be included in the plan area and explains why they want a neighbourhood plan.

The district council would now like residents and businesses of Chickrell to have their say on this area.

The consultation will continue until Friday, August 5th.

Councillor Ian Gardner, West Dorset District Council's Planning Portfolio Holder, said: "We want to hear the views of residents and businesses of Chickrell about what they think of the proposed designated area for the Chickrell Neighbourhood plan.

"We must consult on the designation of a neighbourhood plan before the process can go any further."

By Trevor Bevins

A copy of the application, together with details of how to make comments can be found at www.dorsetforyou.gov.uk/neighbourhood-planning/west/weymouth.

■ Neighbourhood plans were introduced in the Localism Act 2011 and aim to give residents more say in the future use of land and buildings in their area. For example a plan can say where new homes, shops or offices might be built or where important green spaces might be protected.

West Dorset District Council has a duty to provide technical advice and support to those communities who wish to prepare a Neighbourhood Plan. The district council is also responsible for approving the neighbourhood area.

Headteacher in court over alleged indecent assaults on former pupil

A WEYMOUTH headteacher has appeared in court facing charges relating to an alleged sex assault on a pupil in 1995.

David Akers, 60, has been charged with two indecent assaults on a former pupil aged under 16 while he was headmaster of Budmouth School, now Budmouth College.

Mr Akers, who is from Weymouth, is still head teacher at the school, but a school statement said Mr Akers had not been at work since December and an acting principal had since taken over.

Lottery grant to help island's elderly

A £356,000 GRANT from the National Lottery will help Portland's Island Community Action (ICA) continue its work with isolated and older people.

The Big Lottery Fund's Reaching Communities scheme will pay for the five-year Silver Island programme.

It will also mean the scheme being extended to older people in Wyke Regis, with local care agency, Bluebird Care offering match funding.

Under the scheme ICA and its volunteers will work to help improve physical and mental wellbeing with a range of projects which include befriending and community transport.

Some of the work being planned includes trying to identify individuals who might be at risk in the future and taking early action before problems develop.

Sun shines on

■ LOBSTER with chef at Les Enfants Terrible

■ QUAYSIDE crowds enjoy the festival

By Trevor Bevins

FORGET Brexit worries

- Weymouth's weekend Seafood Festival saw thousands proving that while there might be stock market worries and a plunging pound there was still demand for lobster and champagne.

The Pomeroy Dorset Seafood Festival saw dozens of stalls either side of the harbour and on the Pavilion forecourt.

When the sun came out on Sunday afternoon numbers soared again with hardly a car parking space to be found in the town - unless you were prepared for a long walk, or took to park and ride.

There were cookery demonstrations throughout the weekend. River Cottage expert forager John Wright tried to persuade Sunday's lunchtime crowd of the delights of local seaweed as a food source.

"It free and tons of it are going to waste," he told the crowd, promising that there was only one known poisonous seaweed.

"If you're unlucky enough to find it, it will taste foul, so just spit it out," he advised.

Other local chefs taking part included Dorchester's Mat Follas and Russell Brown on Saturday and ITV's 2015 BBQ Champion Simon Dyer.

Sunday's activities started with a short service by the Fishermen's Mission, the charity which will benefit from the event and were collecting donations throughout both days.

Mingling among the seafood stalls visitors could also find curries, oven-baked pizza, cheeses, and even wooden carved ducks.

Stalls were also there from Dorset Wildlife Trust and the fish diseases laboratory, CEFAS, both of which were reporting a lot of interest in sustainable fishing.

Business students raise £350 for hospice with Minion movie event

THOMAS Hardye students who organised a cinema event have raised £350 for Julia's House Children's Hospice.

The students, studying A Level Applied Business, had to complete a unit on event management – and chose to run and evaluate a fundraising event.

With the help of Dorchester's Odeon Cinema they staged a Minion Movie Event which involved watching the Minion Movie, a raffle and a photo opportunity with a Minion.

"The students really did put a lot of time and effort into organising the event and they worked really well as a team. They also enjoyed the experience and I am very proud of what they have achieved," said teacher Mrs Mandy Banfield.

Patients' thumbs up for DCH cancer care

DORSET County Hospital is providing good quality care across for cancer patients – according to a survey of patients.

The results of NHS England's Cancer Patient Experience Survey for 2015 put the hospital within, or above, the expected national standards for the vast majority of questions.

More than 300 Dorset patients responded to the survey, a response rate of 72 per cent. Overall, patients rated their care as 8.7 out of 10.

Three areas were highlighted as exceeding national expectations – patients being given enough support from health or social services during treatment; staff asking patients what name they preferred to be called by; and getting understandable answers to questions from their clinical nurse specialist.

DCH's Deputy Chief Operating Officer Anita Thomas praised the contribution of the nurse specialists: "I am particularly pleased to see recognition of the hard work provided by the Cancer Nurse Specialist Team. We now have a larger team covering all cancers treated at DCH and they have consistently shown themselves to be committed to delivering exceptional care, support and signposting to services for all our cancer patients and their carers.

"The previous survey results suggested we should work on information given regarding access to free prescriptions and in discussing cancer diagnoses with our patients and again it is fantastic to see that patients reported improvements in these areas.

"We are also working closely with Macmillan and the First Point housing advice service to offer our patients access to additional information and support through our Patient Advice and Liaison Service office. Our work with Macmillan has included engaging with patients and carers as well as our colleagues in health and social care, and the private and voluntary sector, in order to produce a Patient Information Strategy for the whole of Dorset.

"We are looking forward to being able to make further improvements to the services we provide once we have raised the money we need to create the new cancer outpatient facilities at DCH. We'd like to take this opportunity to say a big thank you to everyone who is working so hard to help us fundraise – your support means a lot to us and our patients."

The Dorset County Hospital Charity is leading the £1.75million fundraising appeal to build a new outpatients department for cancer patients above the new radiotherapy suite which is coming to DCH through a partnership with the Dorset Cancer Centre at Poole Hospital.

Counselling and support services will be offered in rooms next to the outpatient areas and the chemotherapy unit will expand to give family and friends space to sit with patients receiving chemotherapy.

Meeting to discuss future of youth centre

By Trevor Bevins

A PUBLIC meeting is being held this weekend which could decide the future of Weymouth's Southill Youth Club.

It takes place this Saturday, July 16th, at noon at the Emmanuel Church.

Plans for the youth club include widening its use to a health and wellbeing centre under the control of a community group.

The club is one of those affected by budget cuts ordered by the Conservative-controlled county council.

A group of residents, including the Southill Play Area Recreation for Kids (SPARK), have been working on a business plan for the centre which they would lease from the county council.

The Saturday meeting will explain how far the plans have got – and seek further public support to secure the future of the building, which would include more activities for adults as well as young people.

Among the plans are sessions for dance, exercise, cooking and social events.

For more information call 07741 252 302.

Abbotsbury Road homes without power

AROUND 50 properties in and around Abbotsbury Road in Weymouth were hit by an early-morning power cut on Friday.

Southern Electric said 54 properties in the road, Newstead Road and Holland Road had been off since 6.30am, with the power being restored after repairs to an underground cable by mid-afternoon.

The company brought in a 'welfare van' offering free drinks to customers affected and the chance to also charge some electrical items.

The company also visited all the affected homes to check on any vulnerable residents.

of pounds for local charities.

"We hope people will get creative and work together to make something special that they will be proud of. From experience, the more effort that is put in, the more groups will benefit from the experience."

The committee are encouraging potential entrants to utilise local charity shops, scrap stores and even have a go at recycling to bring their ideas to life.

Chris said: "You do not need to spend a great deal. You can use Puddletown Scrap Store and local charity shops for materials. Improvise and recycle. The main things you will need are imagination and creativity and they are free!"

An online Carnival entry form is available at www.weymouthcarnival.co.uk or if people have any questions they can contact the procession team by phone or email on 07976332418 or procession@weymouthcarnival.co.uk.

■ A CAKE sale was organised by Caroline Churchill, Mayoress of Weymouth and Portland at Amec Foster Wheeler, Poundbury.

The cakes were baked and donated by Penny West, Tamsin Miller and the Mayoress, who made her very first cake for this worthwhile cause.

Tesco Express on Lanehouse Rocks Road, Weymouth, also kindly donated cakes from their store.

The amount raised was £117 which may be match funded by Amec Foster Wheeler. This will be split between two charities, supported by Councillor Richard Kosior, Mayor of Weymouth & Portland, which are the MV Freedom and the Merchant Navy Association.

South Dorset Ridgeway art on tour

ART inspired by the South Dorset Ridgeway was on show in Martinstown at the weekend.

A touring exhibition was on show in the village hall while traditional crafts and displays were on offer at the nearby village green.

The art exhibition, commissioned by Artsreach has been touring throughout Dorset this summer.

Alongside the exhibition the Ancient Wessex Network brought their 'History Village' with displays of ancient jewellery, pottery, jewellery and artefacts typical of those which might have been used by ancient settlers in the area.

Visitors were able to try their hand at making beaker pottery and Faience bead and Viking jewellery making.

The exhibition will be at the Kingcombe Centre, Toller Porcorum, from Friday 22nd to Sunday 24th July, 11am-4:30pm. Admission is free.

There, Dr Simon Timberlake of Cambridge Archaeology Unit will lead workshops on Tin and Copper Smelting on July 23rd and Bronze Casting on July 24th.

■ YOUNGSTERS were asked to guess which skull belonged to which animal

■ PET lambs were among the surprise guests as Dorset County Show's Secretary Richard Cuzens married Jo Grassby, a Senior Steward of the Homecraft tent.

The wedding took place at St Martin's Church, Martinstown in front of 140 guests as well as Jo's three pet lambs.

The couple's four children and three grandchildren all took part with Richard's son as best man, their daughters and daughter-in-law and grand-children as attendants and son-in-law's as ushers.

A long-term friend to them both, Ian Gibson, became an usher for the first time at 80. The bride's dress was silk and lace in light parma violet.

The couple had planned the wedding to be between lambing on Richard's farm at Litton Cheney and his duties as Show Secretary for the County Show in early September.

Mrs Cuzens said: "After the honeymoon, I shan't see him much until late September when the show is over."

Happy ending for show couple

Primary school rated as 'good'

LITTLEMOOR'S Bincombe Valley Primary School has been rated "good" by Ofsted inspectors – after previously being classified as requiring improvement in 2014.

Inspectors say that pupils are achieving good results, including those with special educational needs.

Headteacher, Leif Pallister, thanked staff and pupils for the good report which comes after an inspection in May and said he now looked forward to the next step of increasing further opportunities for the school.

Inspectors said they found good standards in all the areas they looked at - leadership and management; quality of teaching, learning and assessment; personal development, behaviour and welfare; outcomes for pupils and early years provision.

Their report praised the way that children are settled into the school and that that reported feeling safe.

Royalty selection

WEYMOUTH Carnival's 'Royalty' will be chosen this weekend at an event in the Riviera Hotel.

It takes place on Sunday, July 17th with different age categories allowing both children and adults to take part.

The categories include: King and Queen (18 years plus); Prince and Princess (13-17 years) and Junior Prince and Princess (9-12 years).

Care staff honoured for hard work and dedication

STAFF from Care South's Maiden Castle House in Dorchester and Buxton House in Weymouth are celebrating success at the company's annual Stars Awards ceremony.

Now in its sixth year, the event recognises and rewards outstanding achievements and dedication to care provision by its staff. Nominees are put forward by colleagues, residents, service users and relatives.

The event also celebrated the achievements of over 40 staff who achieved formal qualifications during the year.

Ashley Smith from Maiden Castle House received the 'Care Team Leader of The Year' award and Maiden Castle's Activities Coordinator, Jenny Webster, received a special award for 'Continuing Excellence in working with the Community'.

At Buxton House in Weymouth, Care Assistant Chantelle Latrese won a 'Best Care Newcomer' award.

Susan Willoughby, Chief Executive of Care South, said: "This is a highlight of our year, celebrating the professionalism, passion and commitment to care that is delivered day in, day out, by all our staff. Once again, we received a huge number of nominations for our Stars Awards, from colleagues and our residents and service users. The event was a wonderful celebration of all that is good in care and it provides us with an opportunity to publicly acknowledge and thank our staff for their dedication to providing exceptional care."

"All of our finalists have demonstrated exceptional commitment to providing the highest quality care for residents and service users across our homes and home care services, making a huge difference to the lives and wellbeing of those we care for and we are hugely grateful for and proud of their efforts. Above all we recognised that our finalists are often where they are, because of the help and support of colleagues, with teamwork being the key to successfully delivering the best quality care."

This year's Stars Awards marked a special anniversary for Care South, as the company celebrated its 25th anniversary. All members of staff who have achieved 25 years-service or more received a special silver heart award, in recognition of their hard work.

RE-OPENING

ON FRIDAY 15TH JULY 2016

The Clock, Main Street, Chideock, Bridport, West Dorset, DT6 6JW
Telephone: 01297 489423 Website: www.clockchideock.co.uk

THE CLOCK FREEHOUSE, CHIDEOCK RE-OPENING ON FRIDAY JULY 15TH

A much-loved 16th century village pub is set to open this weekend after being gutted by a fire last year.

The Long family who own The Clock in Chideock will re-open its doors to the public 466 days after it was destroyed by a fire on Easter Monday in April last year.

Mike Long and his family have moved back into their home and are looking forward to welcoming both old and new customers to celebrate the popular thatched pub being back up and running.

They have organised a weekend of celebrations to mark the occasion after they officially cut the ribbon on Friday (July 15th) at 5pm. They will be there from around 3pm if anyone would like to go earlier.

Free buffets will be supplied on Friday evening, Saturday lunchtime and evening and Sunday lunchtime and evening with live music from local band the Pickwicks on Friday and John De Barra on Saturday from 9pm. On Sunday there will also be a quiz at 7pm and possible live music.

The Clock will not be offering their full menu until Monday, July 18th from 12noon.

Throughout the weekend, beer prices will be the same as when they initially took over the pub in 2002, to replicate the initial launch.

Mike said: "The support has been unbelievable, there is not really any words I can say - the support we have had financially, clothing, just words, is beyond words and we will be eternally grateful."

It has taken just over a year for the family to get their beloved home back and the community their much-loved pub, but Mike admits there were times that he didn't think it was possible.

He said: "We had the 'there is no way we are ever going to come back from this', - for about a month or six weeks - where you look around and think it is not going to be rebuilt, then we had the joy of the insurance.

"Once the builders started to come out and do quotes and all of them said between 28 weeks and 32 weeks to rebuild. I can't get my head around that, it doesn't make sense, you look at it and think 32 years not 32 weeks, that was what it was like.

"We started to have a bit of faith in what people were saying and sure enough we are on week 33.

"With the hiccups we have had along the way I think it is tremendous, I cannot get my head around where we are today, what we have and how it looks.

"We moved into the house last Friday (July 1st) and that was surreal to be back. We have walked around and lights switches and stuff are in different places, and you are going for stuff that isn't there, a light switch or a door opens a different way and it's really mad. And where we have coat hooks, things that

ON FRIDAY 15TH JULY 2016

The Clock, Main Street, Chideock, Bridport, West Dorset, DT6 6JW
Telephone: 01297 489423 Website: www.clockchideock.co.uk

people take for granted, you walk out the door and grab your coat but your coat is not where you grab it from, so that is quite strange trying to get used to.

"One side, which we hoped wouldn't happen but it did, is where we go looking for things that we lost. When we were in the rented house, you are going to get stuff that is in a different place and its in a different place because you are in a different environment, but now we are back home, we are going to get stuff, but its not there because we lost it, but because you are back in your room, you're going for stuff.

"I see it as a negative because it is starting to hit us what we have actually lost but it's a positive as it must be that we are in familiar surroundings that we are going for stuff that's not there. It must feel like we are home again."

"It is great to be back in, honestly I don't think I will be home personally until I am back behind the bar. I am back in my house but I will be home when I step behind that bar and pull the first pint. I am really, really excited to be back, I can't wait."

The pub is already nearly full up with darts and skittles teams before it has even reopened.

Mike said: "We have gained three alley skittle teams and two extra dart teams. We are now full up for skittles, we have no room at all.

"We do have room for a couple more darts teams, I hope to have a team in the Lyme Regis league as well as a team in the Beaminster league.

"Friday nights I am full up, I have four teams in the Bridport league. Overall I think we are up to 31 teams this season, table skittles, alley skittles and darts.

"If there are any new teams wishing to play Beaminster darts on a Wednesday, Lyme Regis darts on a Thursday, or table skittles on a Monday, we have spaces for any teams looking for a venue."

THE CLOCK

FREEHOUSE CHIDEOCK

BACKGROUND

The Clock burnt down in May last year as a result of a chimney fire, destroying the families home and belongings.

The community immediately came together to show their support for the Long family, setting up the Save Our Clockhouse Campaign (SOCC) raising money, collecting clothing and any other things they may need.

But then Mike and his family were hit with issues with their insurance policy, leaving them to find a shortfall of over £200,000.

The pub was estimated to cost £521,000 to rebuild, they had cover for £554,869 but in the insurers opinion it should have been insured for £1,339,000 and they were only 38 per cent insured and would only receive 38 per cent of the cover, which worked out at £210,000, a shortfall of £311,000.

After a long battle with the insurers they received a sum in the region of £300,000.

But the family have managed to rebuild their home and the community hub with the help and support of the community.

Mike said: "I can't wait for Friday, to walk behind that bar and say 'what are you having?'

"Everyone has helped us get our home back and now I have to give them their pub back."

Ashley Cooper Turf & Transport

AN exciting new product for us at Ashley Cooper Turf & Transport – Meadow Mats!

Since WW2, 98% of the UK's wildflower meadows have been lost; which is such a shame, as these species-rich areas were also a source of food and shelter for countless insects; butterflies and bees to name two, as well as birds and others that contribute to the food chain. All is not lost though; if every gardener in the UK were to turn 10% of their garden into a wild flower area, we could reinstate 10,000 acres of butterfly habitat!

Hence our new product MeadowMats: - Pre-grown mats to give you instant ground cover. Meadow mats establish fast and will flower in their first season (some not until their second season). Mixed perennial and biennial plants that will keep flowering year after year. Low maintenance. With plant species that are hardy throughout the UK.

Types of Meadow Mat available:

Traditional MeadowMat – an old fashioned hay meadow mix of grasses and flowers.

MeadowMat for Birds and Bees – 20% grass, 80% flower mixture, a plant selection especially rich in nectar for summer insects.

Cottage Garden MeadowMat - a glorious blend of native and non-native plants and grasses, bringing a beautiful splash of colour to your garden.

MeadowMat for Woodland Shade – subtle hues of woodland wildflowers into the shadier parts of your garden.

Don't forget all our usual products and services; excellent quality turf – delivered for you to lay, or use our Supply and Lay service. Top soil, bark mulches, etc. Call for further information, or to arrange a free, on site, no obligation quote.

Mico's legacy lives on

HM Lord-Lieutenant of Dorset Angus Campbell unveils the plaque alongside Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Richard Kosior, Mayoress Caroline Churchill and Gary Hepburn Chairman of Weymouth Town Charities

HE died 350-years-ago, but wealthy London merchant Sir Samuel Mico's last wishes are still being carried out in Weymouth.

Now the man, who it's thought was knighted for paying off King Charles II's considerable debts, has been further honoured with the unveiling of a blue plaque on the pub he owned in the town.

Sir Samuel Mico – a trader in silk and spices – died in 1666. He left money and property in his will to fund three apprentices and pay pensions to "decayed seaman". He left the bulk of his estate to his wife Lady Mico who was a supporter of the anti-slavery movement and the Mico Charity went on to become an important educational charity in the Caribbean, eventually educating and training emancipated slaves who went on to become teachers.

Today, the Sir Samuel Mico Trust is administered by Weymouth Town Charities. Sir Samuel's bequest now helps around a hundred local young people a year, by funding scholarships and providing grants to assist with education and training.

The trust says it is always pleased to receive applications for grants from local people aged under 24, who need assistance with course fees, books, equipment or anything else to do with their personal development and education.

Gary Hepburn, Chairman of Weymouth Town Charities said: "Sir Samuel would be so pleased to see how many people the trust is helping today, and the many thousands that have been helped since he died in 1666. The George Inn was left by Mico and is still owned by the trust and the new blue plaque is a fitting tribute to him and the foresight he had back in 1665 when he wrote his will and gave such a lasting gift to the town."

MP's plea to Commons to save Land Registry

SOUTH Dorset MP Richard Drax has appealed for the Government to ditch the proposed sale of the Land Registry, which employs 200 in Weymouth.

During a Commons debate, which was called by Labour, the MP said that only the Treasury thought the sell-off was a good idea.

"An Englishman's home is his castle," said Mr Drax.

"The very territory that we live on is the biggest investment that any of us makes. This sell-off would undermine the absolute, fundamental basis of that security."

"The proposal and consultation fail to register the fact that the Land Registry is quasi-judicial. The integrity of the organisation's database is paramount. Land Registry data are fully accessible to Ministers and the public, with all the checks and balances required. It is the largest database in western Europe, it underpins the housing and property market, and it is a cornerstone of our economy. A sell-off could destabilise the housing market for a short-term return – there is no point in doing that."

He added: "The Land Registry is a public monopoly....why should it now become a private monopoly? That just does not make sense. Hedge funds and overseas buyers are not interested in the greater good or the stability of the country – that is the risk. They want to make a return...but this business should not be put under that sort of speculation. Selling to a foreign company might well be against the national interest."

Mr Drax also pointed out that the proposed sale price of £1billion was low, considering the Land Registry returns £100million to the Treasury every year.

"I believe this idea has now been kicked into the long grass," said Mr Drax.

"As I said in my speech, we have far bigger fish to fry with all the wonderful opportunities that lie ahead. The Land Registry should be left in peace to continue the job it has always done so successfully."

The axe has fallen

IN the past this column has highlighted the axe hanging over Dorset's public mobile library service. Well that axe has now fallen.

You might have to delve through a load of fluffy justification by County Hall about budget pressures and an alleged decline in the number of people using the service, but the bottom line is it's gone.

Heartfelt pleas that this vital facility reaches out deep into the Dorset countryside to some of the remotest locations all fell on deaf ears.

Instead a smokescreen was put up which waffled on about the needs of disabled or frail people being met with continued access to books and other reading material delivered to their homes.

There was talk about community transport being encouraged to help people gain access to libraries with continued support for residential homes, but what about ordinary people in reasonable health whose only crime is to live in a remote area? How are they to get easy access to books now?

County Hall's solution to that seems to be yet another example of shifting its responsibility on to someone else since their suggestions include "asking someone to collect books on their behalf"!

This might work if the person concerned knows the author they are interested in and the title of the book in question, but all too often those of us who read books gain an interest in a book by browsing, by going through shelves of books to find one that interests us and you can't send someone to do that.

The loss of the mobile library service is the latest in a long line of County Hall cuts where other people are encouraged to help paper over cracks in the authority's budget. How long will it be before there have been so many cuts that the only things we get provided by County Hall are rubbish collections and a final demand in red for our council tax bill?

■ THIS week's Growing Old Disgracefully looks at screaming children and why elderly people get wistful rather than upset at the noise.

I was in a coffee shop recently when a little girl had a minor tantrum which other customers politely pretended not to notice.

When her father eventually carried her outside, apologising to fellow customers as he did so, it left a table of four elderly women who I engaged in conversation by saying the scene had brought back memories of my own children when they were young.

They all immediately agreed and said they remembered just the same sort of thing and every one of them was smiling.

The reason for this is love and memories of how their little darlings grew up to be big darlings. Those days guiding, protecting and bringing up a young child are gone, but they are not forgotten. That's why there are grandchildren. All the fun and they get to give them back at the end of the day!

Hopefully a solution can be found to end bus strikes

I'VE been contacted by various people about the strike which has affected buses in Weymouth.

On the face of it the dispute, over drivers in Weymouth being paid less than drivers in other First Dorset depots, seems pretty clear cut.

But the strike has become increasingly bitter and both sides have dug in.

Arbitration has been mentioned but many passengers may still have to settle for taxis or Shank's Pony for a while as the strike reaches the four-week mark.

Hopefully a solution can be found because, when the strike does eventually end, drivers and their bosses will still have to work together in what is an important public facility.

They think it's all over...it is now!

WELL, Euro 2016 is finally over, all the great goals have been scored and all the wonderful passes and saves have been made.

Weymouth and Portland threw itself into the football frenzy with opportunities to see matches on everything from a big screen at Weymouth Pavilion to countless smaller ones in pubs and clubs up and down the borough. For those of you who missed them here are the results.

Russia and their Ultra supporters ran out winners, clocking up an impressive total of thirteen ambushes, two iron bars, 129 thrown tables and chairs and 61 hospitalisations, a hugely promising performance ahead of them hosting the 2018 World Cup.

Runners-up were England with five Dunkirks, eight French sticks, 42 thrown tables and chairs and 18 hospitalisations. Germany won the third place play-off with 83 beach towels, nine thrown tables and chairs, three hospitalisations and a cunningly worded trade agreement.

Both Russia and England lost several tear-gas "penalty shoot-outs" with French police who denounced the many early scenes of street violence from behind the safety of their barricade in the White Flag Estaminet.

The tournament's worst performers were the Irish who could only manage a miserly share of the Headlines of Shame through photos of their fans coming to the rescue of an elderly French couple whose car had a flat tyre.

They changed it for them without smashing any of the car's windows or throwing the deflated tyre at rival fans, an abysmal performance lacking any violence except their butchery of the French language as they wished the couple "bun chance"!

Just the World Cup to look forward to in two years' time then.....in Russia....on the Ultras' home patch. Should be a walk in the park!

A week of seaside thrills and spills for RNLI!

LIFEBOAT Week organisers are looking forward to another exciting seven days of events from July 23rd to 30th, including many of the old favourites and some new activities.

Although the Red Arrows will not be appearing during Lifeboat Week this year (instead coming two days before on July 21st), the Lyme Regis & Charmouth RNLI Guild are confident they still have a programme to entertain the whole family in their annual week of seaside thrills and spills.

And the week will not be completely without its aerobatic displays, as the RAF Puma Helicopters give a flypast on the opening day.

The Lyme Regis & Charmouth RNLI Guild, organisers of the week, reacted with delight at the RAF's gesture, but at the moment no time has been announced for the flypast.

Chairman of the guild, Irene Roper, said: "We do not have the Red Arrows in Lifeboat Week this year so this is tremendous news."

"We fully understand that this is a flypast but it is a most valuable contribution to the opening day of our week for which we are truly grateful."

"The RNLI in Lyme Regis has received tremendous support from the RAF over a number of years and we are delighted that this will enable us to maintain the link between our charity and the air force."

Another of the opening events on July 23rd will be the popular Bathtub Race, once again sponsored by Rob Perry Marine. The race sees teams attempt to row from Cobb Gate to the harbour in home-made bathtub boats and reigning champions from the Fire and Rescue Service are hoping to beat their "world record" time of last year (see page 23).

The lifeboat crew themselves will also be taking to the sea on the opening day to give their usual welcoming display in the "Spirit of Loch Fyne" lifeboat.

During the week there will also be the chance to meet the crew members at the lifeboat station on the Cobb, where you can even have your photograph taken with the brave volunteers.

New to this year's programme, Paul Atterbury of BBC "Antiques Roadshow" fame will be giving a talk at Uplyme Village Hall on the early days of the RNLI against the background of the many achievements of Victorian Britain – so if you're interested in finding out a little more about the life-saving charity, this is the event for you!

Belly dancing is again on the agenda, as well as the sandcastle competition and a grand auction at the lifeboat station.

Uplyme Morris Men will be strutting their stuff during the week. There will also be swimming challenges for children and adults, a crab fishing contest, firework display and pavement art, all back due to popular demand!

The tug o' war contest between the lifeboat crew and a team of firefighters and coastguards will again take place across the harbour mouth with one team, at least, certain to take a ducking!

Talking of ducks there is, of course, the annual Lifeboat Week duck race on Friday, July 29th. Newcomers of a musical kind are members of the Three Counties Swing Band also performing on the Friday.

As a special addition to this year's programme, Roy Beal, 44, a motor technician from Seaton, will be displaying his kayak and looking for sponsorship on the first day of Lifeboat Week, before setting off this summer on a 360-mile kayak from Tower Bridge on the Thames to Seaton in aid of the RNLI and Cancer Research UK (see page 27).

Full details of this year's Lifeboat Week events will be available in a programme which will be available in local outlets or search 'Lyme Regis Lifeboat Week' on Facebook for regular updates.

Can anyone beat the fire crew's bathtub record?

AMONG the highlights of this year's Lifeboat Week will be the hotly-contested bathtub race, which was won for the fifth year running in 2015 by Dorset Fire and Rescue.

Town crier Alan Vian credited the firefighters with a "world record" time of 11 and a half minutes. However, organisers of the week, the RNLI Guild, are expecting more entries this year and plenty of determination from crews to take the title from the record breakers when the race is held on Lifeboat Week's opening day - Saturday, July 23rd.

One Guild member said: "The firefighters have had a good run, but it is now time for another crew to show them a clean pair of heels."

But local fire chief Virgil Turner is still up for the challenge, commenting: "We feel we can beat anyone, but of course any other crew is welcome to try and stop us. However, we have a plan A and a plan B, and they do not involve smuggling an engine on board!"

Other events to be held during the week will include a produce stall on Monday, July 25th which this year will tie in with judging for the Great Lyme Regis Bake Off Competition, in which entrants have made lifeboat-themed cakes.

A highlight on Tuesday is the grand auction at the lifeboat station (see page 26). This was a huge success last year with the first appearance of a comedy duo of professional auctioneers, Simon Watson from

CHAMPIONS: Lyme Regis fire crew hold the record for completing the bathtub race in the quickest time.

Lyme Bay Auctions and Harry Ballin, from Windsor. There will be plenty of eye-catching lots, including a superb rug from Axminster Carpets and a £100 voucher for Mark Hix's Oyster and Fish House restaurant.

The week also includes all the favourites - the duck race, tug o' war across the harbour mouth and yard of ale. And there is plenty of music including for the first time the much-admired Three Counties Swing Band.

Cellar 59

57-58 Broad St, Lyme Regis DT7 3QF

- open 11am until 11pm every day.

CELLAR 59 is located in the basement of an intriguing 17th century building situated in Broad Street opposite the Three Cups Hotel. Offering artisan ales from our own brewery Gyle 59, and guest beers from other small breweries across the country we aim to offer 4 cask-conditioned and 10 keg-conditioned craft beers all kept in top condition. Staff are knowledgeable and will offer you tastings of beers to help you make a selection.

To compliment the beer, simple cold tapas-style food is available which can be enjoyed on our secluded patio. If beer is not your drink of choice, we have a good wine selection as well as local draught and bottled cider and a small selection of artisanal spirits as well as hot drinks.

Take away beer is available in 9 pint mini casks and 4 pint jugs or choose from our eclectic range of bottled beers from our beautiful, period first-floor bottle shop.

In honour of our lifeboat crews who selflessly give their time and skills to help others, we have created a special beer called "Rescue". A 3.7% ABV amber session beer with a good malty base and fruity hop finish, Rescue will be available throughout the season with the added benefit of 20 pence per pint going to the RNLI.

Top lots to be won at lifeboat auction

A RUG with a unique fish design has been donated by Axminster Carpets to the grand auction during Lyme Regis Lifeboat Week.

The auction, with many interesting lots, is being held at 6pm on July 26th at the lifeboat station on the Cobb.

The rug was presented to the organisers of the auction, Gerry and Peter Hampton, at the last meeting of the local RNLI Guild before Lifeboat Week, which starts on July 23rd.

The rug was handed over to the Guild by Maggie Sullivan, sales administrator at Axminster Carpets, who is also the new secretary of the Lyme Regis and Charmouth RNLI Guild (pictured top right).

Other outstanding lots at the auction will include a £100 voucher for Mark Hix's restaurant and the print depicting the lifeboats of Lyme Regis which has been adapted for the cover of this year's Lifeboat Week souvenir programme (pictured left).

Charity kayaker to visit during Lifeboat Week

CHARITY kayaker Roy Beal pictured with lifeboat crew members

MARATHON kayaker Roy Beal, a 44-year-old auto electrician from Seaton, will be visiting Lyme Regis during Lifeboat Week just days before he sets off to paddle 360 miles from the Thames to his home town.

Roy and his 17 foot sea kayak will be appearing on Marine Parade on the first day of Lifeboat Week – July 23rd – as he seeks more sponsors for his charity paddle, which starts on July 29th from Tower Bridge.

He is raising money for three charities including the RNLI during his journey which he estimates will take three weeks. He plans to call in at as many lifeboat stations as possible on the way.

He will be passing ports such as Dover and Portsmouth and tidal races including Beachy Head and Portland Bill.

Roy said: "Sleeping arrangements will vary from the wilds of beach camping to camp sites and, with any luck, the occasional bed and breakfast."

Carnival has families returning year after year

NOW in its 68th year, Lyme Regis Regatta & Carnival Week still has families returning to the town year after year for some traditional, seaside fun.

This year's week will run from Saturday, August 6th to 14th and the programme boasts more than 50 events for all the family.

As carnival spirit sweeps the town, highlights of the week will include a torchlight procession on August 7th, firework display on August 11th and the finale of the grand procession on the evening of Saturday, August 13th.

There will also be live music, the return of the popular Marine Theatre disco, quiz nights and – in what promises to be one of the most visually-stunning events – the floating of candles down the River Lim, last held in Lyme Regis to mark the 100th anniversary of the First World War.

A programme of children's activities will also be on offer each day, including imaginative competitions and games on Marine Parade, from the Lego Challenge to Quack Attack, wild and wacky races, free boat trips, a sandcastle competition, teddy bears' picnic and lots, lots more!

Following on from its successful launch last year, Regatta & Carnival Week will be continuing the duck theme this year and the decorated duck competition, which will see local shops and businesses displaying decorated wooden ducks in their windows. Can you spot them all? (See page 28 for further details).

Organisers were blown away by the success of this competition when they first held it last year, with the traders really throwing themselves behind the campaign and BBC Spotlight even featured it on the regional news.

The annual Regatta & Carnival Week duck race has also become a popular return event, and this year organisers are hoping for a record crowd on August 14th.

Full details of all events will be available in the Regatta & Carnival Week programme, which will be available to buy from many local outlets from late July and from the carnival kiosk on Marine Parade during the week itself.

Let's go quackers for carnival!

In Lyme Regis, we all love carnival and it's only fair that everyone has the chance to be part of the grand procession.

After the huge success of last year's competition, 150 business will be taking part in this year's Queen Duck Competition giving them the chance to win pride of place in the parade.

Over the past few months businesses have been dreaming up fantastic designs to decorate their wooden ducks and, on the first day of Regatta & Carnival Week we will get to see their designs as Lyme goes totally quackers!

The public are asked to vote for their favourite ducks which will be displayed in windows of shops and businesses around the town. All those who vote for a decorated duck will be entered into a prize draw for a luxury break at the Alexandra Hotel.

Voting slips are available from the Broad Street voting station or the yellow carnival kiosk on Marine Parade.

On the final day of voting - Friday, August 12th - all the ducks will assemble at the "arrival lounge" on the seafront. Voting closes at 3pm with the winners being announced at 5pm.

The top 10 ducks will go onto their own float during the carnival procession, with the favourite being crowned Carnival Queen!

As well as the decorated duck competition, the annual Regatta & Carnival duck race is also always a popular hit. This year, the race will be held 12noon on Sunday, August 14th starting at Windsor Terrace.

Cash prizes of £50 for first place, £30 for second, £15 for third and £5 for the last duck home will be up for grabs, with ducks costing just £1 to buy. Organisers are also hoping that Daisy Duck, their giant duck mascot, will make an appearance around the river on the day.

As well as buying your ducks from the carnival kiosk on Marine Parade, this year they can also be bought at www.lymeregiscarnival.co.uk, where they can also be decorated with their own unique colour.

Tickets bought in blocks of five will be entered into the draw for a holiday for a family of five at the Fernhill Hotel, between Lyme Regis and Charmouth.

If you want to take home a souvenir of all the quacking fun you've had during Regatta & Carnival Week, you can place a silent bid for one of the decorated ducks. Simply return your silent bid during the week to the carnival kiosk before 3pm on Friday, August 12th.

Carnival supports local causes

ALL of the helpers and organisers of Lyme Regis Regatta & Carnival Week give their time entirely voluntarily and receive no payment, so they aim to keep their administrative expenses to a minimum.

After paying for major items like the fireworks, essential insurance premiums, licences, and so on, everything that is donated in collection tins or is surplus from entry fees makes its way to many good causes in and around Lyme Regis.

Last year, the organising committee were able to donate a total of £9,000 to 30 local causes. These were: B Sharp, Christmas Lights, Community Lunch Club, Driftwood Project, Father Christmas Sleigh Project, Football Club (Youth Section), Fossil Festival, Get Together Club, Gig Club (Youth Section), Hallett Court, Honiton Gymnastic Club, 1st Lym Valley Scouts, Lyme Regis Coastguard, Lyme Regis Lifeboat Crew, Lyme Regis Majorettes, Lyme Regis Town Band, LymeNet, Marine Theatre (Youth Section), Marine Theatre, Moving On, Musical Theatre, Pan-## Pick a side!

Mods and Rockers: which side where you on?

FEW tribute bands can genuinely claim to have a genuine rock star in its ranks. But the Mods & Rockers Show has just that in front man, Johnny Warman. The show will appear at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis, on Friday, July 15th.

Johnny was signed to Ringo Starr's record label, and had a string of hits in the 1970s and 1980s, including 'Screaming Jets' which featured Peter Gabriel.

"As a youth in the 60s, one of the biggest decisions you could make was whether to be a mod or a rocker," said, Johnny Warman, frontman of the band. "As soon as I heard The Who, I knew I had to be a mod. But being so young, I couldn't afford a scooter or any of the sharp suits. I'd catch the bus to hang out with my friends in town."

Johnny's passion for music began as a child. "I was walking home from school and passed a building where I heard music. I walked up to Dansette record player to find 'Love Me Do' by the Beatles playing. I was spellbound." In a happy twist of fate, Johnny later signed to Ringo Starr's record label and became the drummer's songwriting collaborator.

The Mods & Rockers Show features over two hours of classic songs by Mod and Rock artists including The Who, The Rolling Stones, The Kinks, Jimi Hendrix, T. Rex, Eddie Floyd, The Equals, Toots & The Maytals, The Small Faces, Mott the Hoople, Chris Montez, The Animals, Pink Floyd, The Beatles and Procol Harum.

It follows Johnny and the band's storming appearance at the Marine Theatre last November with their Total Who Show. "Everyone who came will remember just how fantastic the night was," says Johnny. "We earned a standing ovation – and we're looking for a repeat performance with our Mods & Rockers Show."

The Mods & Rockers Show starts at 8pm on Friday, July 15th at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis.

Thorncome Battle of Bands Winners take the double!

THE STAGE was set, the lighting rig fired up and in the quiet little Dorset village of Thorncome, something magical was about to happen! One by one, ten local bands from three counties (Somerset, Devon and Dorset) took to the stage to entertain the crowds at the annual beer and cider festival at the Sports & Social Club. After a highly charged night of amazingly good music, the judges deliberated before choosing four to go to Saturday's final showdown. There was a lot at stake as not only would the winners get a full day in the recording studio with professional record producer Phil Nicholas (who has worked with such legends as Def Leppard, Billy Ocean and Brian Adams) but there were also awards for Best cover, best original song and best under 21's band.

Senior judge musician and record producer Phil Nicholas commented "If I'm being honest, I came here expecting good but average local talent. To say I was surprised is an understatement! The whole judging team and I have been simply blown away by the depth and strength of local musicianship. There was not a single band that did not deserve to go to the final which made our choice really tough!" All the bands older and younger were playing their hearts out for a place in the first ever three county, TBOB final in Thorncome but in the end, the judges selected Slinky Machine from Lyme Regis, Cloutsham from Wellington The Stylers from Dorchester and Recovering Satellites from Bridgewater.

Then it was the public's chance to get in on the judging action and vote to save their favourite band and take them through to the final. Votes counted, it was Banana High from Yeovil that made it through as a very worthy fifth place to play again.

Saturday night TBOB final

The day started with a strange twist of fate as Slinky Machine one of the judges' picks declared themselves withdrawing from the competition. This sounded bad but actually band spokesman John Robertson told the organiser "We were so impressed by the brilliant atmosphere and friendship between the bands that we decided as more seasoned musicians that we wanted to give our place to one of the younger bands who perhaps would benefit more from the prize." But Slinky Machine had so much fun, they offered to come back and play a 30 minute set on Saturday night anyway – For the crack! Organiser Phil Gordon added "This was brilliant, so kind and really what I had hoped this event was all about – The music, the love of playing live and the chance to showcase the best up and coming bands of the area!"

The fifth band was Mandy for Girls who were really excited to get a reprieve so all was set for another titan struggle in the evening on Saturday. Rather frustratingly one of the band members pulled out at the last minute leaving the rest of the band unable to continue so the final missed having a fifth band competing. Each of the four finalists played an epic thirty minute set for the judges and the bar was raised higher still! The judges were given more thinking time with Slinky Machine's bonus set which went down very well with the crowd. Brad Baptist local musician from Lyme and member of the TBOB judging panel remarked "So hard to judge, because the quality was that good. Brilliantly organised competition"

TBOB Winners

Recovering Satellites won the 'Best Cover' TBOB with an outstanding and refreshingly different version of Joni Mitchell's 'Big Yellow Taxi', Cloutsham won 'Best Original Song' with a track called 'Front door' and the overall winners were the youngest band in the competition 'The Stylers' who will be heading to a recording studio at the end of August were presented their award by Mark Ollier of Beviss & Beckingsale key event partners. Mark commented "We are delighted to be supporting TBOB this year- It's been a great night and we've all been really impressed with the depth of musical talent in the area – This is a great way to showcase the bands."

The stylers who come from Dorchester also won the best U21 band TBOB trophy too! Alfie Neale, lead singer and spokesman for the group said "We are totally delighted to win, especially with such a strong field of competition. I would like to give a special thanks to you to the Stephen the singer/guitarist of Cloutsham who when my guitar string broke mid song rushed to my rescue and leant me his pride and joy guitar, such a nice thing to do!"

Diminishing Tea Parties

A NEW fundraising initiative for Bridport Arts Centre kicked off last week. Supporter Margie Barbour hosted the first of, what is hoped will be many, 'Diminishing Tea Parties'.

The idea is that groups of people are invited to a tea party and all make a small donation in return. Then they go and host their own and their guests also make a donation and also host another round of tea parties and so it continues. The idea is to get a large section of the community involved.

Speaking about the tea party Margie says 'I really enjoyed getting the tea party together for everyone - I confess the cakes were from a supermarket- but the cucumber sandwiches (no crusts!) and the meringues were home made!'

My friends were very curious about how it would work but once we had got together and enjoyed the slap up tea they were all planning their own events. From pub crawls to beach picnics- I am sure they are going to have fun!'

If you would like to host your own 'diminishing tea party' for Bridport Arts Centre please contact Laura - laura@bridport-arts.com.

A fundraising group has also started selling raffle tickets to raise money for the refurbishments.

There is a cash prize of £100 plus runner up prizes, you will be able to buy tickets from Bridport Arts Centre box office and people will be out and about over the summer and on the Arts Centre forecourt on market days.

The upgrades to the Arts Centre are well and truly underway, the refurbished Arts Centre will open in September with improved facilities and access along with a new café and bar. You can find out more about the changes at www.bridport-arts.com

A fun and therapeutic class with movement specifically designed for the symptoms of Parkinson's to start in Dorchester

As part of Pavilion Dance South West (PDSW)'s 'Parkinson's Roll Out' project a new Parkinson's dance class launches in Dorchester at the Corn Exchange this July.

Dorchester Arts will be working with PDSW to provide a Parkinson's dance class that is specially developed to be fun, stimulating, motivating and challenging.

These sessions will support the improvement of balance, coordination and suppleness. They will be led by trained specialists and will be taught in a comfortable and safe environment.

Mark Tattersall, Artistic Director of Dorchester Arts said: "One of our core aims is to provide arts activities for the whole community and are delighted to be hosting this weekly class at the Corn Exchange."

"We are firm believers in the therapeutic value of the arts and this type of movement class has proved itself really effective all over the country."

"It is particularly appropriate that we should host it because we have been working with local playwright Sue Wylie on developing her play Kinetics, which is partly inspired by her own experience of being diagnosed with Parkinson's."

Kinetics is going on a 13 date regional tour in autumn, with several performances in Dorchester and across Dorset'

There are free taster sessions for the Parkinson's Dance class every Tuesday throughout July from 3pm - 4:30pm at the Corn Exchange. The official class starts from 6th September onwards and are £3.50 each. Carers are invited to join in free of charge.

The Tempest of Lyme

Don't miss the exclusive performances of Shakespeare adaptation

THE Tempest of Lyme approaches Lyme Regis' seafront with 50-strong community cast. This special adaptation of Shakespeare's The Tempest incorporates the local link between the town and Shakespeare's last play.

In July 1609 Lyme Regis-born Admiral George Somers set sail to carry urgent supplies to the fledgling British settlement of Jamestown in Virginia. Three months into the voyage, the fleet hit a hurricane that wrecked Somers' ship on an uninhabited Bermuda. 150 passengers were stranded for ten months on the island before building new ships and sailing on to rescue Jamestown. One of his fellow crewmen was Sylvester Jourdain, also from Lyme Regis, who wrote an account of the storm, the shipwreck and the Isle of Devils, and published it in London. Shakespeare read the account, and was inspired to write his last play...The Tempest.

This July, to celebrate the 20th anniversary of Lyme's twinning with St George's Bermuda, the Marine Theatre stages The Tempest of Lyme, a new adaptation of Shakespeare's epic tale weaving in the story of Sir George Somers and his colonization of Virginia. Directed by Marine Artistic Director Clemmie Reynolds, with music by award-winning composer Andrew Dickson (High Hopes, Vera Drake), this open-air theatre production is to be performed on Theatre Square with sweeping views of the Jurassic Coastline and whatever weather we encounter as the perfect backdrop to the drama.

Performances take place from July 19th-24th, onstage nightly at 7pm, except on Thursday, July 21st when the performance will start at 8pm due to the Red Arrows display. Gates open one hours before onstage times

Exploring strange new worlds!

Camp Bestival's travelling barn and caravanserai line-ups revealed

IT'S NOW just t-minus three weeks and counting until Camp Bestival heads into Outer Space. As we prepare for lift off at the UK's greatest family festival, we are delighted to reveal the line-ups for The Travelling Barn and Caravanserai, two of our favourite space destinations on the outer limits of entertainment.

Camp Bestival curator Rob da Bank says: "From hillbilly barn dancing, dosi-dos and swinging your pants in the Travelling Barn, to the unique surrounds of Caravanserai and its supercharged brass madness and mind-boggling sideshow fun, I think these are two of the best venues you'll find at any festival anywhere in the world. Perfect if you're after a bit of escapism, so get in there, have a drink and a dance and let yourself go. I will be!"

Travelling Barn curator Greg Butler said: "Time travel back to the Travelling Barn where there's old fashioned family entertainment for all – whether that's having a hoedown at high noon, laughing at the antics of Laurel and Hardy or just posing for pictures in our vintage 'peep board'".

Caravanserai curator Chris Tofu said: "Caravanserai is the ultimate festival venue par excellence, where art, brass and vibe all come together in a cavalcade of festi-vibes and madness. A place whose beating heart is all about the festival love."

A toe-tapping promised land of musical rarity, The Travelling Barn is hoedown HQ at Camp Bestival boasting a line-up of swinging selectors rocking the 78s including DJ GG, DJ 78, Dr Sid, Edison Wax Cylinders, Flutter and Wow, Greg's Greats 78s, Jules Bushell, Latin & Cumbia Rhythms, Lil' Miss Lonesome, Not Saffron, Sounds of the Townships, Tony Tunes, Young DJ Henry and Windies 78s.

They also have live a smorgasbord of live music from Andrea Amorim, The AntiPoet, Duke Special, Ella and the Blisters, Henry Nurse, The Jimmy Hillbillies, Kelly Oliver, Kid Carpet, Travelling by Butterfly, Miel De Botton, Schrodinger's Strings, The Siren Sisters, and The Two Man Travelling Medicine Show. And there will be theatre-based fun with a tribute to Laurel & Hardy from Lucky Dog.

Further space exploration at Lulworth Castle will reveal one of the festival scene's most stunning creations, Caravanserai; the ramshackle run of remodelled caravans. An enchanting bar and venue filled with exotic curios and trinkets, and brimming with electro-swing amenity, expect gypsy-tinged vintage beats to keep you on your feet from the likes of DJs Chris Tofu and Penny Metal. And there will be tub thumping live brouhaha from The After Hours, The Brass Funkeys, Don Kipper, Easy Stride Band, Fat Relic, Forest of Fools, Haliluminati, Kid Carpet, My Baby, Seas of Mirth, Temple Funk Collective, The Two Man Travelling Medicine Show and Victor Menace. While Caravanserai's theatre and circus antics will come courtesy of Cirqueserai and Oh My God! It's the Church.

If you're looking for strange new worlds or to take your festival fun into uncharted space, The Travelling Barn and Caravanserai are unmissable!

Former tv presenter Nick Page to headline Pilot Boat comedy night

TV PRESENTER turned comedian Nick Page will headline the next comedy night at the Pilot Boat Inn in Lyme Regis.

The regular Pilot Boat comedy night is back with another stellar line up of comics, this month headlined by former BBC favourite Nick Page who this month finished as runner up in the English Comedian of the Year final.

Nick has been on the comedy circuit for over a decade, performing worldwide, and has built up a never ending wealth of outlandish tales about his runs ins with the law, ex partners and ladies of the night. A born cynic who cannot avoid mischief, Nick also has some of the best ideas going for smart-phone apps, fizzy drinks companies and what you can do with a highlighter pen.

Opening the show will be westcountry madman Jon Wagstaffe, a force of nature who whips his audience up into a frenzy of laughter. A Cliff Richard fanatic and a Blue Peter badge holder Wagstaffe is a one of a kind westcountry eccentric who never fails to fill a room with laughter.

Completing the line up will be prop comic and quickfire gag merchant Alf and character comic Tim Hoskins.

Resident compere Tom Glover will once again be at the helm for the night, chatting with the club's regular crowd and getting to know all the newcomers.

The next Pilot Boat Comedy night will be this Saturday, July 16th at 8pm, doors open at 7pm. Tickets are £8 and are available from the bar on 01297 443157.

After packed 2015 shows, filming a new TV show, and touring internationally, Matt's back with his modern brand of hypoLaughs, hypnotising volunteers with hilarious (but tasteful!) consequences as their imaginations work overtime.

Suitable for all ages this entertaining show can be enjoyed from the stage or audience...the choice is always yours in this volunteers-only show. Matt always ensures those who take part have the best time out of everyone.

Winner of 3 national comedy awards, Matt has hypnotised people all over the world from London to Vegas (where even Mike Tyson told him "You are AMAZING!").

He's appeared in media as diverse as the UK's tabloids, BBC, ABC, Today Tonight and has been included in the National Film and Sound Archive and Ripley's Believe It Or Not.

He has also released his own range of hypnosis products.

Tales of the other folk

POPULAR local storyteller Martin Maudsley, together with fiddle-player Fiona Barrow, breathes new life into old stories from East Anglian fens to hidden Dorset hollows. On Friday, July 22nd Martin and Fiona will take us on a journey of words, wonder and music to meet 'the other folk'. We might have forgotten them, but they haven't forgotten us.

This land was not always ours. Once upon a time it belonged to the others – the little people, the hidden ones, the fair folk. The wilder corners of the British Isles are still interwoven with tales of other-worldly encounters, sometimes delightful, often dark.

Due to the current renovations at the Arts Centre, the Story Café will be at Watercleaves DT6 5HW (next door to Washingpool Farm), outdoors if the weather is good. The storytelling begins at 7.30pm. The evening is suitable for adults and older children. Tickets are £8 (£5 concessions) available on the night and in advance from Bridport Arts Centre box office 01308 424204 or website www.bridport-arts.com

Pupils play brings history to life at Tolpuddle festival

PERFORMING Arts drama students from a Somerset school are bring the Tolpuddle story to life at this month's festival in the small Dorset village.

The students from Heathfield Community School in Taunton performed to packed audiences over three nights earlier in the year, and are bring highlights from the production to the 2016 Tolpuddle Martyrs Festival this Sunday, July 17th.

Drama teacher, Helen Elliott, launched this ambitious project with a group of 21 year 11 BTEC Acting students in September 2015 with a visit to Tolpuddle, the TUC Martyrs Museum and Dorchester Shire Hall Old Court.

Helen said; "The students in their cast roles explored Tolpuddle village and its unique history. The "labourers" stood outside the Methodist chapel, "James Hammett" visited his grave, "Rev Warren" stood proprietorially in the doorway of St John's church, "Thomas Standfield" at his own cottage and the six labourers, later martyrs, organised at the iconic sycamore tree - where the student cast of 21 gathered, hands held around the tree to pledge the oath, "We raise the watchword liberty, We will, We will, We will be free".

"The cast then moved on to Dorchester Court where they visited the cold, unforgiving, holding cells. They rehearsed, in situ, the court scene where the six labourers were sentenced to transportation for seven years to Australia on a trumped up charge of sedition for "swearing an oath".

Graham Padden, playwright of "The Wrong End of the World" allowed the students to perform his version of the play - first performed at Salisbury Playhouse, and visited rehearsals over two days to offer support and advice.

Helen, with the support of school's performing arts team, was pleased to be able to support the students to develop their understanding of this important piece of social history.

The production was supported by unions and organisations across the region including UNISON, UNITE, Thompson's solicitors, FBU, EQUALITY, South West TUC, NASUWT and the NUT. The union loaned the production banners and members attended the initial production, they are now looking forward to seeing the students at the Tolpuddle Martyrs Festival.

Helen summed up by saying; "This has been much more than a school play. The learning experience of taking on such a challenging piece, understanding the Trade Union movement and the role of modern day trade unions - helped by a workshop run by colleagues from Unison South West, has given the students a valuable insight in to how extraordinary people can achieve extraordinary things.

"This is education at its richest".

NEW ESTATE AGENCY OPENS IN AXMINSTER

A NEW estate agency has opened in Axminster.

Axe Valley Property has been set up by a young mother Kelly Apps, who has launched her business in offices in Chard Street.

Born and educated in Lyme Regis, Mrs Apps has worked in the property and legal sector for 18 years.

Axe Valley Property will offer a full letting, residential and commercial sales operation and Mrs Apps believes that her experience and personal approach will give her the edge.

Mrs Apps, 35, accepts that the property market is very volatile at the present with the uncertainty over the EU referendum.

"There is a lot of scaremongering going on but with the level of enquiries we are currently receiving I am confident that the market is far from dead," she said.

"In the first four weeks of trading I have had great success with most of the property on my books - a mix of commercial residential lets and sales."

Although she will be operating from offices in Axminster town centre, Mrs Apps says her aim will be to compete directly with the "on-line giants" but retain the local agency experience.

As well as managing retail lets and offering a full advice service on house sales, Axe Valley Property will handle commercial property marketing making the most of Mrs Apps' skill for the negotiation process, and already she has a selection of office accommodation on her books.

She is representing the Pension Fund of Axminster Tools & Machinery which is developing the former Grove nightclub development in Seaton including a range of serviced offices and retail units as well as five town houses.

Mrs Apps has two children Oli (6) and Madi (4) and her husband Ian works as a builder.

A member of the talented Street family, she is best known as a hugely talented local stage performer, taking many of the lead roles in shows staged by the musical theatre groups in Axminster and Lyme Regis.

Stay safe on the road this summer with Lanehouse Vauxhall vehicle check

WINTER driving hazards are well understood, but summer brings its own set of driving challenges. According to a major breakdown service, there is a 20-30% increase in call outs on the sunniest days.

To avoid an unnecessary breakdown on day trips and holiday getaways, Lanehouse Vauxhall, with sites in Bridport and Weymouth, is offering Vauxhall owners in Dorset a Summer Safety Check to ensure their car is in tip top condition. The service will run until 30th September 2016 and Lanehouse Vauxhall is gearing up to undertake the 25-point vehicle check before summer gets into full swing.

From essential tyre checks to topping up brake fluid, coolant, engine oil and screen wash, the comprehensive vehicle inspection will ensure motorists can make the most of their summer road trips.

Dominic Avery, Company Director at Lanehouse Vauxhall commented: "This service is about giving customers peace of mind this summer when they are out on the road, whether they are driving to the airport or making their way to a festival or theme park. Warmer weather brings an increased chance of tyre blowouts and the typical British summer mix of sunshine and showers makes for slippery road surfaces. It's vital that vehicles are in good order to minimise the risk of a motoring mishap."

"After checking all of the key features of your car, we will also treat you to a free 1 litre bottle of screen wash and vital fluid top ups. This essential summer check is priced at the convenient low cost of £19.99 and we urge all customers to take advantage of this deal. We know how important it is for Vauxhall customers to feel their car is in good hands, wherever and whenever they are out on the road."

To book a Summer Safety Check, please contact your local Lanehouse Vauxhall or go online to www.lanehousevauxhall.co.uk

Get ready for summer – Vauxhall's Summer Safety Check includes:

- Fluid Top-ups
  - Coolant
  - Brake Fluid
  - Screenwash
  - Engine Oil
- Air Conditioning Tune-Up
- Lights and Electrics
- Under Bonnet
- Brakes & Hubs
- Underside
- Wheels & Tyres
- Interior
- Free Screenwash

Honda Jazz wins at 2016 Telegraph Cars Awards 2016

THE Honda Jazz has picked up the Best Small Hatchback at the 2016 Telegraph Cars Awards.

Reflecting the best new models on sale today across a broad range of categories, the winners have been selected by the Telegraph's expert road test team, who over the last 12 months have put hundreds of cars through a rigorous review process including everything from early first drives to a detailed 10-point test and living with the cars on a long-term test basis.

With the third generation launched last year, the latest incarnation of the Jazz builds on the strong reputation of its highly successful predecessors. The global car, also known as the 'Fit' in some markets, has sold over 5 million units worldwide since the first generation model was introduced in 2001 and it is currently being manufactured in seven countries.

What the judges said: "Many have tried to copy the Jazz's formula for success, but nothing does it quite so well. For a small car interior space is impressive, and Honda's reliability record is superb."

Phil Webb, Head of Cars at Honda UK, commented: "Being recognised by one of the foremost motoring teams at one of our national newspapers is a fantastic accolade for both the brand and the Jazz. The Jazz is a very important model for us, with an extremely loyal following, so we look forward to seeing this success continue."

Jaguar Land Rover demonstrates all-terrain self-driving research

WHITLEY, UK: Jaguar Land Rover has demonstrated a range of innovative research technologies that would allow a future autonomous car to drive itself over any surface or terrain.

Jaguar Land Rover's multi-million pound Autonomous all-terrain driving research project aims to make the self-driving car viable in the widest range of real life, on- and off-road driving environments and weather conditions.

Tony Harper, Head of Research, Jaguar Land Rover, said: "Our all-terrain autonomy research isn't just about the car driving itself on a motorway or in extreme off-road situations. It's about helping both the driven and autonomous car make their way safely through any terrain or driving situation. "We don't want to limit future highly automated and fully autonomous technologies to tarmac. When the driver turns off the road, we want this support and assistance to continue. In the future, if you enjoy the benefits of autonomous lane keeping on a motorway at the start of your journey, we want to ensure you can use this all the way to your destination, even if this is via a rough track or gravel road."

"So whether it's a road under construction with cones and a contraflow, a snow-covered road in the mountains or a muddy forest track, this advanced capability would be available to both the driver AND the autonomous car, with the driver able to let the car take control if they were unsure how best to tackle an obstacle or hazard ahead. We are already world-leaders in all-terrain technologies:

these research projects will extend that lead still further."

To enable this level of autonomous all-terrain capability, Jaguar Land Rover's researchers are developing next-generation sensing technologies that will be the eyes of the future autonomous car. Because the sensors are always active and can see better than the driver, this advanced sensing will ultimately give a vehicle the high levels of artificial intelligence required for the car to think for itself and plan the route it should take, on any surface.

SURFACE IDENTIFICATION AND 3D PATH SENSING research combines camera, ultrasonic, radar and LIDAR sensors to give the car a 360 degree view of the world around it, with sensors so advanced that the car could determine surface characteristics, down to the width of a tyre, even in rain and falling snow, to plan its route.

Tony Harper said: "The key enabler for autonomous driving on any terrain is to give the car the ability to sense and predict the 3D path it is going to drive through. This means being able to scan and analyse both the surface to be driven on, as well as any hazards above and to the sides of the path ahead. This might include car park barriers, tree roots and boulders or overhanging branches, as well as the materials and topography to be driven on."

Ultrasonic sensors can identify surface conditions by scanning up to five metres ahead of the car, so Terrain Response settings could be automatically changed before the car drives from tarmac to snow, or from grass to sand. This will optimise all-terrain performance, without loss of momentum or control.

To complete the 3D path, branches overhanging a track, or a car park overhead barrier would also need to be identified to determine if the route ahead is clear. Overhead Clearance Assist uses stereo camera technology to scan ahead for overhead obstructions. The driver programmes the system with the vehicle's height, which can include roof boxes or bicycles, and the car will warn the driver with a simple message in the infotainment touchscreen if there is insufficient clearance.

Sensors could also be used to scan the roughness of the road or track ahead and adjust vehicle speed. TERRAIN-BASED SPEED ADAPTION (TBSA) uses cameras to sense bumpy terrain including uneven and undulating surfaces and washboard roads, potholes and even standing water. It is then intelligent enough to predict the potential impact of these surfaces on the car's ride and automatically adjust speed to keep passengers comfortable.

Another key element of successful all-terrain autonomous driving is the ability for vehicles to communicate with each other, especially if they are out of sight around a bend or on the other side of an off-road obstacle.

In a world-first off-road demonstration, Jaguar Land Rover has connected two Range Rover Sports together using innovative DSRC (Dedicated Short Range Communications) technology to create an Off-Road Connected Convoy. This wireless vehicle-to-vehicle (V2V) communications system shares information including vehicle location, wheel-slip, changes to suspension height and wheel articulation, as well as All-Terrain Progress Control (ATPC) and Terrain Response settings instantly between the two vehicles.

Tony Harper said: "This V2V communications system can seamlessly link a convoy of vehicles in any off-road environment. If a vehicle has stopped, other vehicles in the convoy will be alerted – if the wheels of drop into a hole, or perhaps slip on a difficult boulder, this information is transmitted to all of the other vehicles. In the future, a convoy of autonomous vehicles would use this information to automatically adjust their settings or even change their route to help them tackle the obstacle."

"Or for the ultimate safari experience, cars following in convoy would be told by the lead car where to slow down and stop for their passengers to take the best photographs."

Water Polo

West Dorset squad celebrate league title

THE undefeated 1610 West Dorset Under 15 Waterpolo team is celebrating winning the Key Stage 3 league title.

The team, which trains weekly at Dorchester Sports Centre, has beaten teams from across Wiltshire and Dorset to recently clinch the coveted title.

The squad of 35 players has gone from strength to strength during the last six years since it was formed at the new improved facilities at Dorchester Sports Centre.

It boasts many County standard players and 14-year-olds Poppy Elliman and Alex Felton have just been selected for the South West Waterpolo squad. Former team member Harry Wheeler (16) has gone on to play for the GB Waterpolo team.

The squad is coached by Head Coach Tanya Wheeler, as well as coaches Andrea Dabbs, Jonah Jones, Cameron Dabbs and Pete Brown who have inspired the players to become one of the most successful Waterpolo teams in the South West.

Andrea Dabbs who organises the team's fixtures and who has been part of the driving force behind the team's success, is very proud of what the talented players have achieved: "We are delighted for the players who have worked so hard all season never losing a game.

"We have some extremely gifted players but they all work together under the careful guidance of a dedicated team of coaches.

"The improved facilities at Dorchester Sports Centre have undoubtedly helped the team's success and growth of the squad.

"This season we have had new goals installed which has made a great difference to the team's performance, investment in sport does really pay off."

For more information about the 1610 West Dorset Waterpolo squad please contact Andrea Dabbs Tel 01305 858400.

Tournament ahead

AN under 13 mixed water polo tournament is scheduled to be played on Saturday, July 23rd (6-9 pm) at 1610 Dorchester. So far West Dorset and Exeter have signed up to compete.

St Austell have withdrawn, and a reply is awaited from Taunton.

This will be followed by an U16 girls match between West Dorset and Exeter.

Sailing

Hunter hopeful of heroics as series heads for Hamburg

REFLECTING on his first experience in skippering the Land Rover BAR Academy GC32 yacht at the recent Cardiff leg of the Extreme Sailing Series, Weymouth-based sailor Neil Hunter is eagerly looking forward to his next opportunity 'at the helm', Hunter said: "I think it was pretty pleasing for the guys. We got a few good results over the last few days, a couple of seconds, mixing it up with the top teams, so I think it's really positive moving forwards for the team."

"Obviously there was quite a lot of pressure on me personally coming in to this having had limited experience in this class anyway. But I think it's been really good experience and I think I've risen to it quite well."

"These boats are absolutely brutal, especially when you put them on such small courses like in Cardiff. In previous events the courses have been slightly bigger, which means you're not having to do manoeuvre after manoeuvre quite so quickly. It has been physically demanding for the crews, especially in a small venue like Cardiff, but we have been putting in the work in the gym and I think it's paying."

"Our boat handling, have been really good and we've made some strong gains in racing generally. We're a new team so gelling as a team has been really good."

"I think moving forwards, that is going to continue and hopefully we'll be mixing it a bit more with the top teams in Hamburg at the end of the month."

Land Rover BAR Academy finished seventh for Act 3, Cardiff, which sees them sit in fifth overall for the 2016 season.

Unfortunately the crew suffered structural damage to the boat which put them out of racing on the second day however the British team did secure two second place results during the Act.

The next event is Act 4, Hamburg, taking place from 28 - 31 July

DORCHESTER (20) 208-6 BEAT

SHILLINGSTONE (7) 206 ALL OUT BY 3 WICKETS
DORCHESTER returned to winning ways with a hard earned victory over Shillingstone that saw them home with an over to spare.

Economic bowling by the county town restricted the hosts to 206 all out; a good effort by Dorchester after Shillingstone looked well placed at 128-1 with captain Roy Haycock leading the way with 73.

However the introduction of the young spinners paid dividends with Will McKay (4-41) removing Ashley Merritt (47) after which he and George Foot (2-44) picked up wickets at regular intervals.

Captain Simon Mitchem said: "They were a different side to the one we played earlier in the season. Their captain Haycock batted really well with Merritt, and at 128-1 we were staring down the barrel and a score of maybe 260/270."

"However Will McKay and George Foot got us back in the game which was great. Having dismissed them for 206, on that pitch we always thought we had a chance.

Pete Moxom (17) after an encouraging start, and McKay (4) both departed to leave Dorchester on 34-2, but Dan Morris (13) and Dan Belt steadied the ship. When opener Belt (46) departed for 94-4 bowled by a beauty from off spinner Tom House that turned 12-18 inches, skipper Simon Mitchem stepped up to the plate.

He and Quenton Miller looked put Dorchester back on track as they added 72 for the fifth wicket before Miller (30) was run out.

Mitchem took full responsibility for Miller's dismissal saying: "He was batting really well. We were keeping our heads down and hitting the bad ball and pushing ones and two's and then I ran him out!"

However Foot (16) quickly added a couple of sixes as Dorchester edged nearer leaving Nick Roe to claim victory with what Mitchem described as, one of those horrible freak shots", a ramp shot, leaving Mitchem unbeaten on 64.

On his own performance he added: "I was a bit scratchy as I hadn't been feeling well all week and it wasn't the most fluent of innings.

STALBRIDGE (5) 152 ALL OUT LOST TO MARTINSTOWN (20) 252-6 BY 100 RUNS

MARTINSTOWN made it back-to-back wins with a comprehensive victory over Stalbridge.

Electing to bat, Martinstown made a slow but steady start on a hard, low wicket and when Ed Nichols was dismissed in the 22nd over they were 55-2.

However Ben Lawes continued his form of last week with a fine 72, and with great support from Dave Herbert (43) and Steve Gerety (38) they steadily increased the run rate. With Fraser Hill adding a quickfire 27 not out Martinstown reached a very respectable 252-6 in their 50 overs.

There was a bonus for Martinstown when Chris Read (1-14) struck with the fourth ball of the innings, bowling the dangerous Rob Burfitt with a peach of a ball. James Pickering (3-26 off ten) then removed Tom Hatcher (17), George Coleman (3) and Josh York (0) in a superb spell to leave Stalbridge wobbling on 48-4.

Although Eddie Clements (63) held the innings together, they couldn't establish any partnerships until last pair Steve Forshaw (17no) and Jon Fryer (15) dug in to earn another batting point at the end. Ryan Chase with 3-41 ensuring victory by 100 runs.

County Division One
BROADSTONE (11) 241-8 LOST TO WEYMOUTH (19) 267-7 BY 26 RUNS

SIMON Browne led his side to just their second win of the season with a superb unbeaten 121 not out to move Weymouth out of the bottom two.

Browne had led a rallying call before the game for all to do their bit, which he did, leading by example as the Seasiders posted 267-7 in their 45 overs.

Both openers Dean Janaway and Kieron Womble were back in the pavilion with barely forty on the board, but Paul Payne (52) continued his recent good form with a half century as he and Browne took the score to near three figures before he fell.

County Division Three

Browne took control however and although he lost partners at regular intervals, Harry Mitchell (18) proved the perfect partner, allowing his skipper to farm the bowling, as they added 89 in eight overs to post a score of 267-7.

Graham Puckett (1-22 from nine overs) and Michael Pearce kept it tight early on and at 42-3 Broadstone were far behind the asking rate after 15 overs.

However they rallied and despite some excellent bowling from 16-year-old Jon Webb who took 3-30 and took a great caught and bowled, the hosts crept nearer without really threatening to reach the target.

Browne said: "We took our foot of the gas a little bit and although they were never to going to get there, we would have liked to knocked them over for a lot less, but beggars can't be choosers and a win, a win.

"The 19 points pulls us up a little and gives all the lads a bit of confidence."

County Division Two

CATTISTOCK (20) 206 ALL OUT BEAT

BLANDFORD (5) 96 ALL OUT BY 110 RUNS

CATTISTOCK continue to head Division 2 after another victory in what was the most fluent of victories.

Electing to bat, they lost Martin Langford (4) and Billy Walbridge (1) with 21 on the board, but the indomitable Jon Legg was once again in good form. Billy Tucker (21) added 49 with him and Liam Toohill (14) as they reached 107-3.

However, a mini crisis saw them plunge to 145-7 when Legg was finally out for 73 having hit 13x4.

Enter Damen Bradley who didn't hang around hitting 4x4, 5x6 in an innings of 52 off just 28 balls. He smashed Blandford's Dave Abbot who had claimed 4-11 in two overs, for 30 in his next three as Cattistock posted a reasonable target of 206 all out. Blandford came out all guns blazing but lost Alex Sullivan (8) before Kevin Abbot looking to hit anything in sight raced to 41 before he was caught on the boundary with the score 66-2.

From then on the hosts took control led by Toohill (4-12 from 9 overs) and finished by Sam Baker who took two wickets in his only over (2-0) to end the match.

ASHMORE (7) 231-4 LOST TO PORTLAND RT (17) 232-5 BY 5 WICKETS

PORTLAND RT were given a fright by bottom side Ashmore who had lost all nine games and cut adrift of Division Three.

It seemed routine when Matt Barrett (3-40) bowled Rich Woodhouse (2) with only three on the board, but then a magnificent second wicket stand of 197 between Andy Taylor and Lee Russell suggested Ashmore were going to break their duck.

However Gary Randall finally broke the partnership by bowling Lee Russell for 106, and with Taylor carrying his bat with 92 not out, the hosts posted 231-4 in their allocation.

Joe Adkins (36) and Elliott Sawyer (58) gave Triangle a good start in reply with an opening stand of 96. But when skipper Matt Randall (40) was dismissed at 182-5, there was still doubt as to whether they would reach their target.

But an unbroken half century sixth wicket stand between Dave Adkins (25no) and Simon Barrett (27no) they reached their target with one over to spare.

County Division Three

BOURNEMOUTH 3RD (19) 204-6 BEAT BEAMINSTER (6) 162-9 BY 42 RUNS

BEAMINSTER'S winning streak came to a disappointing end as they were convincingly beaten at Bournemouth by 42 runs.

With a severely weakened side the visitors fielded first on a slow wicket with long grass in the outfield.

Unfortunately a crucial catch was spilled in the second over as two fielders collided attempting a high catch, and opener Mike Rosewarne subsequently scored 81 which was the difference between the sides. Ross Baker (2-24) returned in his second spell to dismiss the hard hitting batsman but by then the damage had been inflicted.

Other wickets followed for Aidey Phillips (2-33) who also took two catches and Rob Meech and veteran Dave Penman also claimed a wicket.

Beaminster's batsmen struggled on the slow pitch in pursuit as wickets fell at regular intervals.

The returning Ali Crawford was the most fluent with 24, but youngsters Leo Gurd (28), Will Murley (15 not out) and Lewis Keenan (14) all made positive contributions to ensure Beaminster gained batting points.

SHILLINGSTONE 2ND (7) 205 ALL OUT LOST TO DORCHESTER 2ND (20) 209-4 BY 6 WICKETS

THIS was a good win for Dorchester 2nd's who in beating second placed Shillingstone 2nd's took closer order at the top of Division Three.

Losing the toss, they started well in the field, and Mike Peake (2-43) and Eiron Fitzgerald who bowled straight through taking 3-32 off his nine overs, had the hosts struggling at 65-5.

However Tim Cowley changed that as he thumped 16 fours on his way to a superb 91, and with the support of Will Morgan (12) and Harry Paulton (16) he was eventually last man out as Shillingstone set a target of 205, with Nathan Quinn bagging 2-50, and Jack Taylor 2-15.

Dorchester found themselves in trouble early on in reply at 9-2 with both opening bowlers bowling particularly Bob Scott (2-11 from nine) impressive.

However, Malcolm Stroudley and Mike Peak batted sensibly to see them off before starting to accelerate the scoring. The pair put on 135 for the third wicket before Stroudley was dismissed for 81 (12x4).

Dorchester then lost a further two quick wickets bringing Ben Macklin to the crease with 47 required off the last six overs.

With 40 needed off the last four overs Peak and Macklin with some good running and a few boundaries levelled the score with one over remaining, and skipper Peak made sure blasting the first ball to the boundary to finish unbeaten with an excellent 80* (7x4, 1x6), and Macklin an extremely valuable 15 not out.

County Division Four

WAREHAM (6) 88 ALL OUT LOST TO ABBOTSBURY (28) 137 ALL OUT BY 49 RUNS

AN excellent bowling performance made up for a poor batting display by Abbotsbury as they defeated Wareham.

With several key players missing, vice captain Steve Budd shuffled the line up. Openers Simon Allen (17) and Robin Potter (4) gave them a solid start with a stand of but nobody could totally master the hosts bowlers. Kynan Brian contributed 14 runs but the Swans were unable to build any substantial batting partnerships as the Wareham attack continued to take wickets, although they did keep the scorer busy in the wickets column.

Chas Duerdorff (24) benefited from a dropped catch and was threatening a big innings when he holed out and the hosts dismissed the Swans for a modest 137.

In defending a low total, Abbotsbury needed to strike early and they did just that. Spinner Krish Subramanian (2-11) struck in the first over, whilst fellow opening bowler Chas Duerdorff (4-15) then got in the act, bowling Wareham captain Martin Upshall for two and then produced a double wicket maiden in his fourth over to leave the hosts reeling on 16-5.

That soon became 24-7 as Duerdorff and Subramanian both claimed a further scalp, while the latter's replacement, Jay Lintern, (1-27) removed Reece Whitty (2), aided by an excellent low catch at mid on by Nick Kneebone.

HAVING dismissed their opponents for a gettable 113 all out, Triangle 2nd's had a shock to find themselves 14-3 in reply. However an unbroken fourth wicket stand between Tim Forshaw and George Linley-Munro (17*) saw them home in 18 overs. Forshaw was particularly punishing with 11x4 and 3x6 as his finished on 75 not out.

Bridport Bowls

More success at county level

THERE was more County success for Bridport with Frances Hewitt & Margaret Clapp beating Cutler and Miller from Broadstone to reach the final of the Ladies pairs to be played at Lyme Regis in September where they will meet the Poole Park pair of Leake & Cresswell. The semi-final victory also sees them qualify to represent Dorset in the national finals in Leamington Spa next month.

Bridport Ladies found life difficult when they travelled to face Division One leaders BROADSTONE A. Laura Taylor, Janet Tattershall, Delphine Street, Pat Cornick lost 13-31 while Pamela Daters, Jill Wilcox, Marion Carter & Rosemary Brooks could so easily have won. Down 16-18 at the 17th end a conversion by the home skip from 3 down to 1 up on the next end resulted in a loss 17-23.

Although Frances Hewitt, Sheila Jones, Alison Tibble & Margaret Clapp won 20-13 it wasn't enough as Bridport (2 pts) went down 50-76 overall.

Bottom side Bridport B fared no better in Division Two, going down 39-71 at home to WIMBORNE. All three rinks lost; Liz Neumann, Chris Robbins, Margaret Strange & Dinah Wilson 13-20, Lyn Craddock, Janet Bird, Jean Seaton & Marion Tocher 16-19 and Joan Griffiths, Pam Gray, Diane S Butcher & Pauline Newitt 10-32 meaning no points.

The club had no success either in the Edna Paisley Triples League, Bridport Blue and Red losing to GREENHILL Blue and Gold respectively.

There was no sentiment around in Men's DL West Division One where leaders Bridport A whitewashed their loyal colleagues Bridport A. They won all their games to triumph 67-41 and claim all ten points.

In West Division Two bottom side Bridport B lost against 50-60 against second placed LYME REGIS 2. Scores; Chris Hall, Arthur Stone, Roger Herbert & Phillip Wilson 16-17. Brian Stone, David Aylott, Dave Smith & Mike Craddock 18-21 and Sam Dunn, Brian Pratt, Peter Carnell & Mel Griffiths 15-21.

The Dagger crew rowed across the line in 4th and the Blaez 7th.

Once racing had finished, the overall winners Brixham received a wonderful trophy made by local boat builder Roman Rodriguez. Second place went to Lyme Regis and Bridport secured 3rd.

The club would like to thank all the visiting clubs, organisers, rowers, helpers, supporters, makers, bakers, umpires and captains for making the regatta such a success.

The cake stall made over £200 for the junior fund and other money raised will go towards a new boat.

Lyme Sailing

Double for Joe & Will

THE first race on Sunday was the Goodman Trophy followed by the second of the Mid Summer Series, all sailed on handicap.

Race officer Tony Fastnedge found an actual SSW blowing F4 rising to F5 as the morning progressed, which meant his windward leg of 5/8 mile set to the forecast SW direction left shortened downwind legs as he had to swing the course to fit the sea room.

He chose a gybe mark angle of 80 degrees to allow the asymmetrics to carry their spinnakers on both downwind legs.

This gave them the chance to sail to their handicaps, a fair comparison with the Albacores and Lasers. Even so, the tide on the second leg took the boats to the east.

Sailing six laps as against five for the other R5800 competing, meant that Joe Joyner & Will Broom conceded line honours to James Fuller & Simon Clark but won comfortably on corrected time.

All other competitors in the Goodman trophy sailed four laps. Dave Stubbs, sailing with his son Ed, retired after a capsized boat.

team knocked out RUSHMORE, a team two divisions above them, after a play-off involving Ian Thacker and Gary Edwards.

Veteran's Section: There was a large turnout of 55 for the veteran's single division, self-entry Stableford.

Brian Walsh(16) came out on top with 38 points, just ahead of Brian Savery(19) with 37. In third place with 36 was Roger Pollock(20) beating Roy Mathisen(24) on count-back. The fifth prize-winner, also after count-back, was Dougie Howells(19) with 34.

One of the best years on record

ADDRESSING a packed hall full of students and families at Sir John Colfox Academy annual Sports Presentation Evening, Headteacher David Herbert congratulated them on another exceptional year.

The year has been one of the best on record including the resurgence of cricket in the school which was highlighted with over 25 matches played, with all teams progressing to the quarter or semi-final stages of county cup competitions. The U13 team have made the regional final.

He also thanked the PE staff for arranging over 150 fixtures. He explained that this was more than all but one local school and, with only six staff, this was exceptional dedication, as some other schools had three times as many.

He also dispelled the argument of some, that time out of school to attend sporting events meant students miss out academically. Mr Herbert explained that at Colfox those who have been busiest in a wide variety of sports are achieving grades at least one above the average.

A number of trips to sporting events have allowed the students to gain a better understanding of what top level sport looks like, as well as experiencing big game atmospheres at stadiums.

Head of PE, Gary Littlechild said: "Providing the students the opportunity to attend these occasions is a vital part of what we do in the department."

Listing the individual achievements of the various winners confirmed the exceptional standards and variety of sports in which they participated, after which they received their award from the sponsors.

It was a case of déjà vu for one sponsor; Peter Wyrill of Raw Media. Last year he had the honour of presenting the Sports Person of the Year Award to his son George. This year he sponsored the Sporting Achievement Outside School and found that the winner was his younger son Henry!

A new addition to the evening on top of the usual awards saw school colours presented to recognise outstanding achievement in a sport, which were presented by former school governor Bob Hall.

This year's winners were: Year 7: Sportsman - Mannie Wellman; Sportswoman - Jessica Herbert (Sponsor: Bathroom Inspirations for both); Year 8: Sportsman - Harry Burwood; (Advanced Card Bureau) Sportswoman - Daisy Parsons (Burton Bradstock Cars); Year 9: Sportsman - Nat Wormington; Sportswoman - Hannah Bowell (Bathroom Aspirations - both);

Year 10: Sportsman - Dan Elliott (Advanced Card Bureau); Sportswoman - Rhianon Parker (Raw Media); Year 11: Sportsman - Kieran Dunning; Sportswoman - Olivia Symes; Young Leader: Samantha Courte (Sponsor: Advanced Card Bureau); Sporting Achievement Outside School: Henry Wyrill (Raw Media); Team: Year 8 Cricket Team (Raw Media);

Fair Play: Harry Tompkins (Burton Bradstock cars); Sports Person: Dale James (Advanced Card Bureau); Year 12: Joe Joyner & Will Broom (Phantom), 3rd James Fuller & Simon Clark (RS 800).

The list of school colour awards and more photos will appear in next week's paper.

Early injury woes for Terras

WEYMOUTH'S injury problems have started before the season has begun!

Both Sam Jordan and Charlie Davis had to be substituted during their first pre-season friendly against Exeter City at the Bob Lucas Stadium on Friday with ankle injuries, although it appears neither are serious.

Striker Jordan signed from Toolstation League Premier Division side Bradford Town in the summer hobbled off midway through the first half, whilst Davis, a summer signing who played for Dorchester Town last season suffered the same problem toward the end of the game having come on as a half-time substitute.

However manager Jason Matthews believes neither is serious, and has no problem that they will soon be back in action.

Two of the trialists who turned out against the Grecians are familiar to West Dorset fans.

Keeper Dan Thomas had a spell at Dorchester Town five years ago, as did winger Dan Smith who was also at The Avenue and played for the Terras before rejoining Weymouth from where he had three previous spells.

Manager Mark Jermyn said: "He is coming along and we will be assessing his fitness levels, and take it from there."

Whilst summer signings Ben Wood and Nick Swann made their debuts for the Magpies, the third Mario Mateus, was absent due to a work commitment, but will be playing on Saturday when the Magpies entertain Wessex League outfit Blackfield & Langley (ko3pm).

Blues brothers!

PORTLAND United have completed the signing of Max Buckler who will join his brother Sam at the Grove this season.

Midfielder Max recently returned from a six month trip to New Zealand and joined pre-season training last week.

Manager Gary Bailey has confirmed that the club are pleased with their additions this summer and that they are not looking to add to the squad.

◆ RETURNING? Kyle Critchell could be back in the black and white of Dorchester Town.
